WASHINGTON.

INVITATION TO THE WHITE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The President and Mrs. Hayes have invited the members of Congress and the ladies of their families to the White House on Tuesday evening, the 25th, to meet the Diplomatic corps.

THE WAR PREMIUM PAYERS AND THE INSURANCE COMPANIES.

The friends of the war premium payers are not discouraged by the report of the Senate Committee on the Judiciary, which is regarded as an adroit plan for preventing legislation at the present session. It gives the insurance companies the first chance, but their agents know that such a proposition cannot be passed while a bill to remunerate the war premium claimants has already passed the House and can be passed by the Senate if the question can be brought up. It is evident that no member of the Senate Committee on the Judiciary wishes to call up their bill, and it now remains to be seen whether any other Senator will engineer it.

FERNANDO WOOD'S PROPOSITION.

The Ways and Means Committee did not meet this morning to vote upon Fernando Wood's proposition to direct the Secretary of the Treasury to pay arrears of pensions and other deficiencies out of the resumption fund reserved. The Committee had agreed to do so, but the fact that the House has repeatedly refused that Committee the right to be heard, has apparently made the Committee indignant. At all events the reason assigned for not deciding the question is that the House will not give the Committee a hearing.

HAMBURG BUTLER'S SEAT.

A special says Mr. Corbin has been offered and refused to accept two years' pay as Senator, and expenses, if he will abandon the contest for the seat held by Mr. Butler of South Carolina. As Cameron of Pennsylvania, Chaffee, Conover and Patterson will join the Democrats in voting for Butler, it is believed the latter will triumph.

A CHINESE MARKET FOR WATCHES AND CLOCKS.

Mr. Henderson, Consul at Amoy, expresses the opinion that a good market for clocks and watches may be found in China.

THE DEFICIENCY QUESTION.

Army Appropriation Bill.—Railroad Telegraphing.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The members of the Ways and Means Committee today instructed their chairman to make another effort to have a day set for consideration of their business. If successful the committee will take steps to provide for the treasury deficiency, but if they fail they will abandon further efforts in that direction. Mr. Hewitt says the committee are not disposed to adopt his proposition to issue treasury notes. He says that it is not absolutely necessary, as the secretary has full authority in case of emergency to sell bonds to keep the resumption fund intact.

The action of the Senate Appropriation Committee in striking out of the army appropriation bill the amendment for a reorganization of the army is regarded as settling the question of any modification of the military establishment at the present session. Mr. Butler and his friends are greatly elated in keeping his telegraph-railroad amendment in the army bill. It will meet with strong opposition when it comes before the Senate for consideration.

ELECTION MATTERS.

A Compromise Conference.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—At a conference of the Democratic leaders in the House today it was determined to let the excitement over the supervisors of election amendment subside before proceeding with the legislative bill, and to take up the Florida election case, which will consume most of the day. The Republicans are determined to resist the proposed legislation and appeal to the country for vindication. A conference is now being held between the Speaker and Democratic leaders of both houses to adjust the question so as to avoid a dead-lock which may result in the defeat of one or more appropriation bills.

The New York and South Carolina Senatorships.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—In a speech in the Senate at Albany, yesterday, Mr. Ecclesine broadly hinted that Senator Conkling's certificate of re-election would be closely scrutinized in consequence of the failure of the Legislature of this State to carry out reapportionment. He said that the decision of the United States Senate in the Eustis case had shown that the certificate of a member elected in consequence of to obey a State constitution could be rejected on that ground. In concluding his speech, Ecclesine again and again invited the attention of his fellow members to the United States Senate when it should come into possession of the Democratic party after March 4, and especially to its treatment of Senator Conkling's certificate.

The Tribune's Albany correspondent says if there is such an

it is evident Governor Robinson takes no official part in it. He has directed his clerks to prepare for his signature a certificate showing the election of Conkling as senator, and the document will be on its way to Washington this week.

REMARKABLE RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

A Passenger Train Thrown From the Track.

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 20.—The express train from Boston, due here at 1 o'clock today, was thrown from the track at Vernon. There were four extra coaches containing the Kellogg Opera Troupe, and an extra baggage car, making an unusually long train, which was running about twenty-five miles an hour. The tender, it is thought, jumped a frog, which threw the whole train off and made a wreck, but no one was seriously injured except the engineer, Charles Gates, who was thrown out of the cab and broke his wrist, and it is thought dislocated his shoulder.

The forward baggage car was turned bottom side up, and the smoking car bounded over it and landed on some coal cars on a side track, which started off down the grade and went thirty rods before stopping.

Most of the trucks of all the cars were wrenched off the track for a long distance. The passengers were thoroughly shaken up, and many slightly bruised by knocking against the car seats.

Another train was made up and got the passengers here late in the afternoon, with the Opera Company in season to appear this evening. The repairs were made so that the trains will pass all right tonight.

THE STRIKERS ALONG THE MONONGAHELA RIVER.

A Bloody Encounter Expected.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 20.—Excitement still exists at Brownsville and other towns along the Monongahela. Sheriff Work, of Washington county, has now a force of 230 deputies at Brownsville, in Fayette county, who made many arrests among the striking coal miners today.

Governor Hoyt has placed Co. H, of the Tenth Regiment, under Work's command. They are at Washington awaiting orders. Many of the miners have fled to the mines, where they have enough provisions to withstand quite a siege, and fears are entertained that a bloody outbreak may occur at any moment.

The troubles were occasioned by a reduction in the price of labor some time ago, a consequent shutting down of mining, and then the employment of fresh hands at reduced rates. The old men threaten vengeance on any one going to work.

THE FRIGATE CONSTITUTION.

She is Towed into Lisbon Disabled.—More Salvage Claims.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—The Herald correspondent at Lisbon telegraphs that the United States frigate Constitution has met with another mishap, and was towed into that port today with her rudder broken. Two coasting steamers had her in charge. After she had repaired the damage at Portsmouth, occasioned by her striking on the rocks on the southeastern coast of England, she met with very heavy weather in the Bay of Biscay and had to apply for help to get into port. A repetition of the salvage trouble is threatened, as one of the steamers claims $3,000 for services. It is expected she will go to sea again in about a week.

Robbery in Dakotah by Road Agents.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Col. Edmund Rice, Lieut. Fred Sibley and Morris Cahn, merchant, while en route from Fort Keogh to Bismarck, where they arrived yesterday, were robbed by road agents. Rice lost $150, Sibley $50, and Cahn $2600. The robbers declined to take their watches. There were but four robbers, and by covering the armed escort of six soldiers with repeating rifles the robbery was successful. Subsequently an armed band of twenty men captured one of the robbers.

Proceedings Instituted against the Baltimore and Ohio Road in West Virginia.

WHEELING, Feb. 20.—The Senate today passed a joint resolution, 22 to 2, directing the Attorney General to proceed against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company by two warrants, for alleged violation of its charter, in the matter of excessive charges.

Explosion in the Katahdin Iron Works.

BANGOR, Me., Feb. 20.—An explosion in the Katahdin Iron Works occurred Wednesday afternoon. John Walker Lagrange was instantly killed. Matthew Ryan, of Boston, was shockingly burned. The accident was caused by gas from charcoal igniting. The damage to property was slight.

Extreme Cold in the Northwest.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 20.—A special to the Pioneer Press from the northwest says the thermometer is 38° below at Fort Pelley and 35° at Winnipeg. A slight snow blockade prevails in Dakota, two trains being delayed for the first time in two years.

STEAM HEATING.

THE GAS LIGHT COMPANY have added to their Gas Fitting Department the business of heating buildings by steam. The cost of steam apparatus has hitherto proved a bar to its general introduction; but at present, ordinary houses can be fitted with steam appliances for a small advance on the cost of a furnace. The superior healthfulness of steam heat, its admirable distribution, economy of fuel, and perfect self-regulation are points in its favor, which far outweigh the consideration of a small additional expense for the apparatus. Parties building, or desiring to change their mode of heating, are invited to apply at the office of the company, and obtain estimates of cost. Cellars too low to admit a furnace can have our boiler set up in them.

FOREIGN NEWS.

The British Forces in Southern Africa to Remain on the Defensive.

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 29.—Unless attacked, the British forces will confine operations to the maintenance of the status quo and the retention of a strategetical position on the border until strongly reinforced. Two hundred volunteers from Port Elizabeth will relieve the Eighty-eighth Regiment at King Williams Town, so as to permit the latter to go to the front.

AT THE LIVERPOOL DOCKS.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 20.—A considerable number of the dock laborers remain on strike. Some coal heavers claiming to have resumed work under a misapprehension, have struck again. The borough justices yesterday decided to retain the troops brought here during the riots, thus indicating they do not think the danger entirely over.

MINISTER LAYARD NOT TO RETURN TO CONSTANTINOPLE.

The Edinburgh Scotsman's London correspondent says that Sir Henry Layard will not return as ambassador to Constantinople.

THE FRENCH AMNESTY DISSENSION.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—Advices from Paris agree that there is considerable dissension among the Republicans, concerning questions of amnesty for political offences, and the impeachment of the DeBroglie ministry. M. DeMarcere, Minister of the Interior has become very unpopular with the extremists in consequence of the annulling of a vote of the municipality of Paris, granting money to assist the returning communists and his assertion of authority over the police.

Mr. Nourse presented the following resolution which was adopted and sent to the House :—

Resolved, That the proposed law now pending in the Congress of the United States restricting Chinese immigration, is in flagrant violation of a sacred and honorable treaty and is wholly inconsistent with the principles and traditions of our Republic and with the broad principles of human freedom and it is our earnest hope that its provisions may never disgrace our national statutes.

Resolved, That the Secretary of the State be and he hereby is directed to send copies of this resolution to our several Senators and Representatives in Congress through the mail.

The Senate adjourned until Friday.

Adjourned to Friday morning at eleven o'clock.

Laziness, says the Ladies Journal, is a bad disease, and, like many other kinds, is often self-imposed. In the case of many individuals, it is an inherited malady, and consequently hard to oust from the system. But it is oftener the case that the disgusting temper is brought on persons by their own deliberate selfishness—by a vastly discreditable disposition to shirk the inevitable burdens incident to living a decent life. Laziness of this kind is one of the most cardinal sins, and should submit the obnoxious offender to the discipline of the treadmill. More particularly is laziness offensive to the young and healthy. To learn to work, cheerfully, is the central lesson of life. Begin to learn it early—eschew laziness as the most disgusting of all faults, and one that will surely end in hopeless misery; for, depend upon it, none can be so insensible through laziness as to be, in the end, incapable of suffering. Nature is, in the event of a non-payment of her demands, a stern and merciless creditor.

PERSONALS.

.....John W. Young, son of Brigham Young, has just taken his fifth wife.

.....John Temple, the inventor of the turbine water wheel, died in Dayton, Ohio, last week.

.....Bismarck will shortly visit England but will decline all official hospitalities and will pay his own bills.

.....Mr. Henderson, husband of Miss Lydia Thompson, has retired with a fortune of half a million dollars.

.....Wilhelmj, the violin player, had his pocketbook, containing $125, stolen during his stay at Macon, Ga., the other day.

.....Pocahontas is to have a monument. Up to the present time there has not been so much as a tablet by the tomb at Gravesend, Eng., where she lies.

.....Secretary Evarts says that people who expect to injure him by calling attention to his long sentences forget that the only persons really opposed to long sentences in this country are the criminal classes who deserve them.

.....Madame Gerster passed a pleasant hour at the White House Wednesday, where she was cordially received by Mr. and Mrs. Hayes. She sang for them several airs "Sommambula" and the jewel song from "Faust." Afterward Mrs. Hayes sent to her a basket of beautiful flowers.

.....Robert G. Hatfield, the architect, died at his home in Brooklyn on Tuesday. As a building engineer he held a high rank, and has written several works which have been useful to his profession. Among his more recent papers is the one in the March number of Scribner's on "The Old Mill at Newport."

.....Hon. George P. Marsh, U. S. Minister to Italy, writes home to his friends in Vermont that the winter in Italy is unusually severe, and the poor are suffering terribly in their stone huts with no fire places and floors of earth. Those who are fortunate enough to have a stable (and cow) sleep in it for the sake of the animal warmth. Mr. Marsh once saw eight beds in the stable of a well-to-do peasant, not far from Turin. Thousands of laborers never have their feet dry or warm once in the course of the whole winter.

.....One of the oldest inhabitants of New York, if not the very oldest, is Barney Doran, janitor of the Baxter street public school who has served in that capacity for 35 years and claims to be 106 years old, and to have the record to prove the same in his family Bible. He still keeps actively about his duties, enjoys exemption from all bodily ills excepting a slight deafness, and is active enough to go out every Sunday and make a round of calls upon his acquaintances. Last New Year's Day he made a number of calls, and at a picnic last summer excited great applause by the grace and agility he displayed in dancing an Irish jig.

.....Captain A. B. Tuttle, arctic navigator who was with the Japan expedition last year, states that he saw an open polar sea. He encountered the ice-belt in latitude eighty-one. By climbing to the highest points on the icy barrier, he could see directly into an open polar sea lying beyond, and by tracing along the belt eastwardly, he found a passage through it into the sea, with a depth of ninety fathoms, or 540 feet. The water was quite warm, and a gulf stream was steadily setting out with a velocity of from four to six miles per hour. He pulled through this passage in whaleboats, and found it to be about eighteen miles wide. In the north part of this open polar sea he found nearly fresh leaves of plantains, bananas, and other tropical plants floating on the water, and showing that they had been off the trees but a short time. Last October he found a large female whale going north through the open passage before mentioned, and also saw migratory birds going north. In July these birds went back south with their young, and about the same time he observed whales going south with their young. Captain Tuttle believes that this open polar sea can be explored, and he is going to Washington to lay his observations and plans before the Government.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

NERVE INQUIETUDE AND ITS REMEDY.

Restless nerves, at least those that are constantly so, are weak ones as well. The true way to tranquilize them thoroughly is to strengthen them. It may be, nay, it very often is necessary to have recourse to a sedative or even an opiate, in dangerous cases of nervous inquietude, but the continued use of such unnatural palliatives is greatly to be deprecated. Though not, in a restricted sense, a specific for nervousness, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is eminently calculated to allay and eventually overcome it, a fact which the recorded experience of many goes to substantiate. This inestimable tonic, by promoting digestion, assimilation and secretion, touches the three key notes upon which the harmony of all the bodily organs depends, and the result is that fresh stores of vitality are diffused through the system, of which the nerves receive their due apportionment, and grow tranquil as they gather strength. feb19-1w-naj

CONSUMPTION CURED.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1879.

Mr. Warren of the Wickford line reports considerable ice in the cove near Wickford but not sufficient to impede the passage of the steamer.

Rev. Dr. H. C. Potter, Rector of Grace Church, New York, says that during the past ten years his church has contributed $1,082,368 for missionary work alone.

The Springfield Republican (in politics, independent grumbler) says there are unmistakable signs that the Tilden and Grant barrels of money have both been tapped.

The General Assembly has expressed its mind on the Chinese question. Like all honorable and just men the members unite in condemning the recent action of Congress on the subject.

The Daily News, during the week, has contained several articles that have led to a call for extra copies beyond our ability to supply. These articles will appear in the Newport Journal printed this afternoon.

Robert G. Hatfield, architect and treasurer of the American Institute of Architects, died in Brooklyn Wednesday, aged sixty-two. He was the author of the able article on the Old Stone Mill which appears in the March number of Scribner's Monthly.

The Haytien revolution is still in progress, the insurgents having taken possession of San Marco without resistance on the 7th instant. On the night of the 8th an engagement took place near San Miguel between the government troops and the rebels, the latter being defeated with heavy loss. Port au Prince has been placed under martial law.

Minister Welsh sends home an appeal for more salary. The country expects its minister at London to stand it as long as he can on $17,500 and then come home. That sum ought to pay the bills of a year in London in modest respectability. When Mr. Welsh is tired of his position somebody can be found to take the place. It never yet went begging.

The woman suffragists show the grace of perseverance. Though the great majority of women in this country do not want the suffrage and will have nothing to do with the agitation, the few who believe in it are in dead earnest and fully resolved to keep the ball rolling. They will be rewarded with success in the end, but the day is probably farther off than most of them expect or desire.

Hon. Judah P. Benjamin is about the only Confederate whose fortunes have been promoted by the war. He is said to have a law practice in London which yields him $150,000 annually, lives in regal style, spending his summer vacations in Paris, and could, if he chose, have a seat in the English Parliament. This is more profitable than being a Senator at Washington, and decidedly so than to officiate as Secretary of State of the Confederacy.

The San Francisco Daily Stock Report, the oldest financial paper on the Pacific coast, says the people of California are discussing the question of secession from the Union in case President Hayes refuses to sign the anti-Chinese bill. There are a good many people in that distant state that could be spared just as well as not. Put Kearney at the head of the column and we shall all be pleased to hear the word, "Forward march."

Yesterday's session of the United States Senate did not close until one o'clock this morning, the principal business under consideration being the postoffice appropriation bill, which was finally passed, including the Brazilian subsidy amendment thereto. The house settled the contested election case from the second Florida district, ousting, by a strictly party vote, Horatio N. Bisbee (Republican) and seating Jesse J. Finley, the Democratic contestant.

A dispatch from Boston to the evening papers says: It being understood that Mr. Ohnfeo, trustee of the A. & W. Sprague estate, is willing to turn the property over to a new corporation to be formed of the creditors if a sufficient number make application, the following agreement is being signed:

"We, the undersigned, creditors of the A. & W. Sprague Manufacturing Company, interested in the property now held by Zachariah Chafee, trustee and assignee, agree to unite in a corporation for the purpose of obtaining possession and control by purchase of the said property and its conversion and application to the liquidation of our debts, and to take stock in such corporation in proportion to our respective claims. This agreement is to be binding when a majority of the creditors in amount shall have signed the same.

The Rev. Reuben Nelson, D. D., of New York, was stricken with paralysis on Sunday and died on Thursday. He was senior member of the house of Nelson and Phillips, who conduct the publishing business of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was well known throughout the country. Our acquaintance began with him in boyhood and we can bear testimony to his worth as a minister, an educator, and a business manager. In his early life he was an operative in a factory where he lost an arm. He sought and secured an education, was an eloquent preacher, and for twenty years was President of the Wyoming Seminary at Kingston, Pa., one of the leading literary institutions of the Middle States. From this he was called to New York and placed in charge of the largest religious publishing house in the country where he remained to the day of his death. Dr. Nelson was a man of the highest worth and his loss will be severely felt by the church and in the extensive business circles where he moved.

Mr. Edward D. Dennis, who has relatives in this city, died at his residence in Brooklyn, on the 18th inst, in the forty-fourth year of his age. Mr. Dennis was born in the town of Wilson, Niagara county, N. Y. When about sixteen years of age he went to New York with the determination of going to sea. His friend, the late Dr. Isaacs, persuaded him not do do so, and he entered a wholesale drug house as a clerk. In 1853 he went to the Isthmus of Panama in the service of the Panama Railroad Company. He soon became the general freight and ticket agent of the road, a position he held for several years. The last year he was on the isthmus he was the agent for Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express. He left the isthmus in 1864 and was for a year or two in the office of Wells, Fargo & Co., in New York. About twelve years ago he became a member of the firm of Marcial & Co., commission merchants of the same city.

MAJOR RENO.

The investigation of the serious charges against General Reno, in view of the Little Big Horn disaster, in which poor Custer met his death, is now over, but not even the Chicago editors are able to reach a verdict. The case, however, is ugly enough for Reno. It is difficult to reconcile the admission of the accused that he had no confidence in Custer's military judgment with the popular estimate of the latter's ability, backed as it is by the enthusiastic commendation of such experienced Indian fighters as Sheridan and Miles, not to speak of a score of others. The prosecution was ready to show that General Reno not only distrusted General Custer, but was actually jealous of his fame. This sort of testimony was ruled out or the case would have looked worse still. On the other hand, it is to be said that the charge of cowardice and incapacity from drink made against General Reno does not seem to be sustained. A cruel lack of zeal in supporting his overwhelmed comrades appears to have been his worst offense.

THE CONGRESSIONAL BATTLE.

It is not altogether a new trick in Congress for the attempt to be made to pass an obnoxious bill by tacking it on as an amendment to an appropriation, and insisting that the two diverse measures must stand or fall together. This is generally done near the close of the session when there is little time left in which to sift matters or calmly consider the situation. In this way it is thought to throw the responsibility of the failure of the appropriation, which is absolutely necessary, upon those who will not approve of the partisan measures coupled with it. Just now we have a glaring case of this dishonorable method of procedure before the country. The legislative appropriation bill is brought before Congress, and though there may be differences of opinion as to many of its items, all parties are in favor of its passage. But the Democrats have several party measures which they cannot pass by themselves and so using their power in the House, they attach these measures known to be obnoxious to their opponents to the bill making necessary appropriations, and coolly inform the Republicans that they must vote for the political amendments in order to secure the passage of the non partisan enactments for carrying on the government.

This course is so unjust that it is not strange that the Republicans refuse to yield to the demand made upon them. They have announced their purpose to use every means in their power to prevent the consummation of such a nefarious scheme and to leave the responsibility with the majority to pass the appropriation bills in proper form or leave this important business unattended to. And in this they have and will have the approval of the country. No fair minded man can favor such tricks in legislation as are here proposed.

But what is it that is sought to be in this disreputable manner forced through Congress? Nothing more nor less than the repeal of a law calculated to preserve the purity of elections. The law that is so obnoxious to the Democratic managers simply provides for the appointment by the United Circuit Court of two supervisors at congressional elections, one of each party, whose authority can only be exerted for an honest vote and the discountenancing of fraud. These supervisors, one being a Republican and the other a Democrat, have no authority to make arrests, or in any wise interfere with the election as it progresses. They are to watch the progress of events and if they discover fraud report the facts for future investigation and settlement. Nothing could be fairer, and when fair play is desired, nothing could be more satisfactory. And it is to secure the repeal of such a law that is to be made the occasion of the attempt to stop the wheels of government. The necessity for some such provisions has been repeatedly shown. Recently a notable instance has occurred in Florida of the good work done under these statutes. In the Second Congressional District of that State, a number of the Democratic managers have been convicted of crime and sent to the penitentiary at Albany, N. Y. The clerk of Brevard County is under sentence of three years' imprisonment. He was convicted of assisting in falsifying the returns, whereby the vote of his county, which contains seven citizens, was raised to 380, defeating the Republican candidate for Congress, and electing the Democratic. Hull, Democrat, received the Governor's certificate, and Hull is one of those congressmen whom the Democrats are fearful of losing through the processes of the United States courts. Gen. Garfield showed the necessity of this law in order to preserve the purity of elections by quoting the congressional report on file that 51,000 fraudulent votes were cast in New York city in 1868. Mr. Frye of Maine clearly defined the purpose of repeal to be to fraudulently carry New York at the next election, as it is thought that without fraud it will be impossible to get votes enough in the city to overcome the Republican majority in the state. It was also shown in the debate that without some such provision voting would be a mere farce in some of the southern states.

If the friends of Mr. Tilden wish to make this an issue before the country, his opponents can scarcely object. It will be found one of those Democratic blunders for which the party has become famous in the past. The Republicans have several times won not by their own skill but by the folly of their enemies and they can scarcely ask a better case than this action will afford, if it be persisted in to the last.

Messrs. Tompkins & Hill of the Boston Theatre announce the early production of the drama "Andre Fortier" written expressly for them by Victorien Sardou and which will bring out the entire resources of the large stage in a manner which has seldom if ever been equalled in this country.

A large wapiti, weighing about eight hundred pounds, was killed recently by an Indian on the head waters of the Mississippi River, in Ottawa. It was one of the largest specimens of the wapiti ever seen in Canada. This gigantic deer was found all through Ontario at one time, but for many years no single specimen has been seen on this side of Manitoba and the Saskatchewan. The horns of this splendid animal measured six feet in width and were seven feet in height from the skull to the highest point. It is to be stuffed and placed in the Government Museum.

WISDOM.

Obstinacy is the heroism of little minds.

He who thinks poorly of himself cannot win the respect of his fellows.

Man believes that to be a lie which contradicts the testimony of his own ignorance.

Our happiness has often as much to fear from the fruition of our hopes as from their disappointment.

Goodness is a flower that must be carefully nursed; evil a weed that seems to grow best with neglect.

The good heart, the tender feeling, and the pleasant disposition, make smiles, love, and sunshine everywhere.

He whose only claim to the title of "gentleman" is in his clothes must necessarily be careful as to what he wears.

The work, which we keep putting off to some odd moments in the future, rarely ever gets done at all; for we continue to find that, some way or other, the moments of each recurring day all come out even.

WHERE DOES DEW COME FROM?

The general belief is that the soil obtains water from the air at night by absorption and condensation to such an extent as to be of the "utmost agricultural value," and that in times of drought this moisture of the air invigorates and sustains plants which otherwise would perish. The observations of Professor Stockbridge show the soil, from November, both at the surface and five inches deep, to be warmer than the air; it is hardly possible that the moisture on the surface in the morning was deposited from the air. A more reasonable conclusion is that the vapor which rises from the surface is condensed as it comes in contact with the colder air. The phenomenon of so-called "dew-fall" is usually attributed to the supposed fact that soil and plants are colder than the air at night, and so condense its moisture in the form of "dew." The "dew" on the ice-pitcher is the common illustration to prove the theory; but as we have seen, the conditions in this case are the reverse of those with soil and plant, which are both warmer than the air at night, while the ice-pitcher is colder. Further investigations were made in the study of this question. A tin-box, without top or bottom, was filled with soil and placed in growing grass; the next morning the grass was loaded with dew, but not a trace appeared on the box, and the temperature of the soil was 66°, and of the air 60°. This experiment was repeated many times with the same results. Then a loose tin cover was placed on the box; in the morning the top of the cover was dry, but the under side was "thickly studded with drops of water"—dew.—[American Agriculturist.

"Have your baggage checked?" cried the man with the brasses. Said Mr. Carolinum quietly, "If it is just the same to you, sir, wouldn't you put a check on the gentleman who handles the baggage."—[Boston Transcript.

—The schooner Maggie Mulvey, in ballast from Providence for New York, dragged ashore in the lower part of the harbor last night and lies in a dangerous position.

—The members of the Newport Catholic Literary Association have a social entertainment at their hall this evening. The exercises will consist of recitations, speaking, etc.

—Councilman Cranston of the Fifth ward, it is understood, declines a re-election. He is mentioned for the mayoralty. We also hear Hon. Isaac Lawrence named for the position.

—Those who put in an appearance at the State House this morning in expectation of seeing the shop-lifters were sadly disappointed as their examination does not take place before Friday next.

—Washington's birthday will be observed in this city by a salute by a detachment of the Newport Artillery at 12 o'clock and the closing of the banks. There will be the usual issue of the News. The Postoffice and the People's Library will be open as usual.

—The steamer Old Colony, owing to the storm, did not leave her dock here until about 3 o'clock this morning. The Newport arrived from New York at quarter-past 3 o'clock which speaks well for her officers. No boat was expected from New York this morning.

MR. STODDARD'S LECTURE.

If any audience could be repaid for breasting the snow blasts of last evening Mr. J. L. Stoddard's lecture at Odd Fellows' hall was the entertainment that could and did amply pay to the satisfaction of every one present.

Mr. Stoddard's introduction aptly blended the driving snow and howling winds of last night with the more fearful blasts and storms of the Alps to which he was about to introduce his audience. Every one who has read of the glorious Rhine will admit how imperfect their conception was when they looked upon the gorgeous pictures and listened to Mr. Stoddard's glowing description last evening. He took his audience from castle to castle, from hamlet to hamlet from one grand old city and ruin to another, pointing out localities, repeating legends, history and scraps of poetry; all were impressed with the grandeur of the scenery and made for the moment to live the lives of the past. The audience was then made to stand at the foot of the Jungfrau, and wrapped in that awful silence to gaze upon this miracle of nature in its shroud of eternal snow. Mr. Stoddard's account of his ascending Mount Blanc in a snow storm, where he and his companions came near perishing in that fearful region, and of their arrival and most hospitable shelter at the convent and entertainment of the faithful monks, was one of the most graphic descriptions. He made the audience look on Mount Blanc as the first crimson blush of the morning touched its awful head. They looked into deep caverns, and passed over yawning cliffs until their heads became dizzy and they instinctively closed their eyes to shut out the awful sight. He made them hold their breath while he led them across narrow bridges from which they viewed bottomless depths.

Mr. Stoddard will be heartily received if he should lecture again in Newport. We understand, however, that at the close of this season, which will last until April, he proposes to go abroad for several years.

HARD LUCK.—Unfortunately for the Guild connected with Emmanuel Church, the weather yesterday afternoon and evening was decidedly against the pecuniary success of their entertainment, but we are happy to say that all expenses were paid which to say the least is a remarkable fact. The supper and other good things were relished the more because of the storm outside and all enjoyed themselves and were more than compensated for their heroism. The storm, of course, prevented the orchestra from Fort Adams from putting in an appearance, but the ladies present made sufficient music to make up for the absence of the musicians. The rector was present to welcome the visitors and left nothing undone that would add to their pleasure. Great credit is due to Mrs. Shepley, Miss Hattie Card, Miss Kate Anthony, Miss Ettie Curtis, Miss Nettie Chase, Miss Josie Steel, Mrs. Wheeler and other members of the Guild for the success of the entertainment and to Mr. William Marvel who, despite the storm, procured a sleigh and took the ladies to their homes after the affair was over.

MIDDLETOWN.

During the storm of Thursday night a portion of the top of Joseph Anthony's mill connecting with the wings got damaged, and in consequence a considerable portion of the wheel was destroyed. The damage in a money point was considerable and delay in working will doubtless be occasioned. Other damage is reported from the Island, several young trees being blown down, and older ones bent over.

HOME TALENT.

The Providence Journal in speaking of Mr. Joseph Gibson of this city, and of his inventions, says:—

As Mr. Gibson has never paraded his abilities, and being, moreover, a very modest and retiring man, it was only by the merest chance that his scientific attainments were discovered. In giving a brief account of this man, and the electrical instruments he has made, it may first be as well to state that he is a native of Armagh, Ireland, where his father occupied the same position to the Very Reverend and Lord Beresford, Archbishop of the Established Church, and Primate of Ireland, as our local genius does to Governor Morgan. From the father, the son learned the art of floriculture and other branches of the gardener's labors, and with his friends, early emigrated to America, settling in Kingston, Canada. Mr. Gibson always had a hankering after electricity, which then was in its infancy, and procured any work, even the oldest, he could come across. He has his first purchase now. It is entitled "Electric Science," and was published in 1853 by F. C. Bakewell. It was an English publication. Obtaining from this work various useful ideas, he attempted the construction of a rude battery, and succeeded. Becoming acquainted with a young man on the Grand Trunk Railroad, known as a train dispatcher, he obtained from him permission to study in his office and cellars, and obtained much knowledge regarding the setting up of batteries and their workings. In a year or so after he made an induction coil, and although he knew he should spoil its usefulness by the cutting of the silk if he took it apart many times, still he did do so at least a score, for the purpose of improving on the first attempt. To prove that his perseverance was rewarded, it is only necessary to say that in his first attempt he used three pounds of No. 40 silk insulated wire, which produced a spark of about one and a half inches, while in the last he used half the quantity of wire but produced a two-inch spark. This was a coil six inches long by two and a half in diameter. He had therefore improved eight hundred per cent. Then he turned his attention to the construction of medical coils for physician's purposes. In the first coil the size of the wire used was No. 30, with Smee's small battery, requiring a case six by six inches, and seven inches deep. He continued to improve, reducing the size of wire and using material better adapted to his purpose, until in constructing his last medical coil he employed No. 40 wire, and two small bi-sulphate of mercury cells, reducing the size of the case to 7x3 inches, and 1½ inches deep. The primary coil for 30 was No. 16, and for 40 was No. 22. In this last instrument he has increased the force, improved the vibrating apparatus, and produced a very fine, smooth feeling, making it easier to hear and reducing the suddenness of shock so that a child can bear it. Mr. Gibson has also constructed a small machine of his own idea, completely, for covering any sized wire from No. 16 to No. 40. It is as yet in a rude state, but even now he is able to cover 3 pounds, or 245 feet of No. 16, or 2 oz—2744 feet of No. 40 per hour. This work is exceedingly delicate and was a treat to witness this morning. He has also constructed a portable battery on Grinnell's principle for the purpose of running small induction coils. Mr. Gibson is experimenting now with different solutions of his own manufacture for the purpose of producing a good white deposit of nickel. The gentleman has also made large magnets for the purpose of lifting and testing what they would hold under certain given battery power. Mr. Gibson's most novel piece of work is a burglar alarm. Mr. Gibson is employed as gardner by ex-Gov. Morgan, of New York, one of our summer residents.

A SLOW TRAIN.

The following story of the way things are done in New Jersey comes from the Editor's Drawer of Harper's Magazine for March:

The Hon. G. T—tells a good story of a slow railroad in the northern part of the State. He says he went there gunning and came to a short line of road on which was run a single car, the forward end of which was partitioned off for baggage. He took his dog in the car with him, and put him under the seat. Presently the conductor came along, and insisted that the dog should go into the baggage-room, which, after some altercation, was done; but here the baggage-master demanded a fee of fifty cents, which was denounced as a "swindle," a "put-up job," between the conductor and the baggage-master, and that sooner than pay it he would tie the dog to the train and let him "work his passage." The conductor assented, and the dog was hitched to the rear of the train. The dog, so T——says, kept along easily with the train, but the conductor began to get uneasy, making frequent trips to the engineer, urging him to increase the speed of the train, and back again to watch the effect upon the dog. The latter began to show signs of fatigue, but after a while caught his "second wind," and was keeping along as before. The conductor now ordered the engineer to heave all the coal into the furnace and stir up the fire, which being done, the speed was perceptibly increased. The conductor again went to the rear of the car to observe the effect, but the dog had disappeared, whereupon he triumphantly called T——'s attention to the fact. The latter, after taking a glance at the situation, quietly pointed to a crack in the floor of the car, "and there," says he, "was the dog, comfortably trotting along under the car, and licking the grease from one of the axle-boxes!"

A PAT REPLY.

The warmth of the true Irish heart and the quickness of the true Irish tongue are proverbial, and feeble must be the cry of distress or brilliant the wit that does not solicit a sympathetic response from the genuine son or daughter of the Emerald Isle. Not very long ago, a little boy whose parents died was sent to the orphan asylum, but the place was so distasteful to him that he ran away and back to his own neighborhood. Living in the vicinity was an old Irish woman, whom we will call Kate, and poor though she was, with a large family, she took the orphan in and cared for him as her own. The other day she was in the city making some purchases, and in one of the stores, a gentleman who was conversant with the facts of the case, asked after the boy.

"Oh, an' he's a foine by, sir, an' glad I am to have him with me."

"Well, well, Kate, if there is a heaven in the next world you will get to it."

As quick as lightning came to reply, with all the heartiness of the race: "God bless ye, Mr. P——; an' sure if I do, I'll lave the gate open for you."—[Rochester Democrat.

In Europe the Manicure, or the art of beautifying the finger nails, is a common practice, all well-conditioned women pay as much attention to their hands as they do to their hair or teeth. If the hand is ugly, the more reason to improve its shape and texture; if fair and finely formed, the incentive is still greater. Mme. Marie Lanine will assuredly prove to her "patients" as she moulds and polishes those ten nails into shining roseate shells. The Manicure as wrought by her supple fingers is a process at once agreeable and satisfying. Five minutes immersion in a tiny bowl filled with a warm fragrant liquid is sufficient to soften the most hardly used finger-tips, and then Mme. Lanine begins her "cure." With a small steel instrument she raises the skin around each nail and pares it gently off as no ordinary scissors self employed can be induced to do, then as cutting is strictly prohibited, the nail is rapidly filed into either the French point or round filbert shape, as taste dictates. All ridges and blemishes disappear under these manipulations from the smooth surface before a pink pomade that is to give the required lustre is applied. This pomade is prepared by Mme. Lanine herself, and is almost magical in its effect, for when softly washed off, the nails are found to be glistening like dew.

Ruth was a good girl, and she had as fine a Boaz could be found in those days.—[Meriden Recorder.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
ABSOLUTELY PURE.
The Royal Baking Powder is a pure Cream of Tartar powder, made from pure Grape Cream Tartar, imported exclusively for this powder direct from the wine district of France. An old experienced housekeeper writes that, although she has to pay a few pennies more for the "Royal," finds that it goes much farther and works much better than saleratus, soda, or cream of tartar.
☞ Most of it's Cream of Tartar of commerce is adulterated with Alum, Terra Alba, etc. Doctors pronounce Alum most dangerous to health; its costs but 2c. a pound, Cream of Tartar over 30c. The Royal Baking Powder is recommended for its wholesomeness by such eminent chemists as Dr. Mott, New York: Dr. S. Dana Hayes, Boston. Sold only in cans. All Grocers.
☞ BAKING POWDER should never be sold in paper packages, as it becomes stale and deteriorated upon exposure to the atmosphere.

SUNDRIES.

The bridal tune—shoofly.

Almost all of us are generous to a fault, if the fault happens to be our own.

The fellow who rang the bell for a false alarm of fire tolled safe.—[Independent.

Some people's ideas of religion are about as sensible as those of the woman who gave a poor soldier who had lost both legs a tract on the sin of dancing.

Two pretty girls were going along Broadday near Barclay street, yesterday, when the extra-blonde one said laughingly to the other, "Oh, I didn't think much of him! he was a little too sissy, and he parted his hair sissy!"—[N. Y. Herald.

There is one thing that the eye of mortal has never beheld, and that is the skater who fell down because he could not stand up. He always looks around with an air of importance, then fixes his skate straps, and does not rub the place that hurts the most until he is sure no one is looking.

When we are young we waste a great deal of time imagining what we will do when we grow older, and when we are old we waste an equal amount of time in lying about what we did when we were young—in telling about the cold winters and trouble experienced in gaining our knowledge.—[Oil City Derrick.

IN THE MATTER OF VISITING CARDS.

A very good story is told of the late Admiral Goldsborough with regard to the etiquette of visiting cards. He was a bluff old sea-dog, and hated sham and pretence. An airy young diplomat, a great man of society and fashion, called on the admiral, and finding him out, left his card with the letters E. P. penciled on it. The brave salt was puzzled thereby, and when the young man accosted him on the street and asked, "Did you get my card, admiral?" he shouted out "Yes! and what's the meaning of E. P. that you wrote upon it?" Oh, why that means en personne, that I called in person." "It does eh!" said the admiral, and went off in a mood of disgusted meditation. In a few days he returned the call by sending his card around by a messenger, first writing S. B. N. in one corner. Again the two met. "You received my card, did you?" inquired the admiral. "Yes, dear, what does S. B. N. mean?" asked the polite young man. "Sent by a nigger!" thundered the admiral.

They were sitting side by side, and said she, "Dear George, do you know I dote on poets and poetry?" "No, darling, I wasn't aware you doted." "Yes, dear, I do; ah! I do; I love to dote. Do you think you could write some verses, some beautiful verses, on some soul-inspiring thought?" George rubbed his nose, and said he didn't know, but to please her he would try, and send her the verses the next day. And this is what she received:

LINES ON THE DONKEY, DEDICATED TO MY LOVE.

The donkey is a pretty bird,
So gentle and so wise;
It has a silky little tail
With which to whisk the flies.

Upon its head two ears it bears,
So silky, long and soft,
That when its tail can't reach the flies
The ears can whisk them off.

This wasn't the kind of poetry to dote on, and the girl whisked George off.—[Oil City Derrick.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the patent office.

EDMUND BURKE, late Commissioner of Patents."

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. INSURANCE

AGAINST LOSS BY FIRE

CAUSED BY

ACCIDENT, INCENDIARISM, LIGHTNING

Or any Other Cause.

I REPRESENT the oldest company in America, and also the largest company in the United States, together with other standard American and European institutions. The Ætna of Hartford alone has paid over $15,000,000 in losses, and has now $7,000,000 assets in hand.

Insurance in such companies, with ample means, and an established reputation for fair dealing, is worth much more than in any of the numerous weaklings that totter along for a while and then go down. About fifty such companies have failed during the last year, and as many others are on the way to ruin.

The rates in these first-class companies are no higher than in the small and doubtful concerns.

Farm property taken very low for three or five years.

All losses settled at this office. For terms call on, or address by mail the undersigned at the office of this paper. L. D. DAVIS.

Carriages to Sell!

and need money more now than I do the carriages. I have all kinds of carriages on hand, except hearses—that stock has given out. I have several first rate second hand phaeton top buggies, which I will sell cheap for cash (as New Years bills are like ghosts, in the distance approaching) and we don't want our friends, who have given us the usual credit, to go away with a sorrowful countenance, and therefore will sell all my stock in trade, which is large. Over one hundred different carriages cheap. Several good winter carriages on hand, not now, but good for work.

If we should have a snow storm, come up and and not bother your neighbors by borrowing, who will lend you a sleigh, and at the same time had much rather lend you in July.

Don't go out of town for anything in my line, as I will do better by you for the cash or trade than any other person in New England.

stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrate the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.

THE BLOCK SYSTEM of SAFETY SIGNALS,
